

Energy Procurement Solutions

Cordjia Capital Projects Group, LLC (“Cordjia”) is a full service, independent energy consulting company specializing in energy procurement and management strategies for commercial clients.

If your organization operates with competitive electric service, we offer an unbiased assessment of your procurement situation and suggest alternative energy strategies to save you money. Our recommendations always include a detailed financial analysis, as well as a comparison of the current and proposed strategy. Our independent approach insures you’ll be able to identify the available suppliers that are best suited to meet your business requirements.

Energy Procurement Strategy

- Our procurement solutions help companies around the United States create budget certainty by minimizing the impact of escalating energy costs. We are confident that we can help you better understand your energy costs and identify opportunities to save with fixed energy pricing.
- We provide the advice that enables you to maintain your profitability by taking control of rising energy costs.
- By leveraging Cordjia’s expertise, you’ll spend less for the energy your operation demands. With dollars saved, you can invest more in other vital areas of your business.
- Our procurement solutions can also provide organizations with variable rate energy programs for those that want to float on the energy market to gain higher returns.

Common Opportunities for Energy Savings

- Competitive Supply Options
- Alternative Tariffs
- Tax Exemptions & Rebates
- Monthly Bill Auditing & Approval
- Price Risk Management

Cordjia understands the complicated process of purchasing energy. Our goal is to create long-term value for our clients. We are dedicated to building strong partnerships by understanding our clients goals and maximizing procurement and energy efficiency strategies.
